A man in a white shirt and dark tie is seated in a brown leather tufted chair. He is positioned in front of a large wooden bookshelf filled with books. On the table in front of him is a laptop. To the left and right of the laptop are stacks of US dollar bills, some bound with yellow rubber bands. The word "POWER" is written in large, white, serif capital letters across the center of the image, partially overlapping the man's face and the chair.
